STOVE LEAGUE PLAYS HEAVY PART IN GAME

Without Winter Dope Baseball Fan Would Be Lonesome Individual:

New York, March 2.—The resounding crack of the willow against the leather and the wild ravings of teeming stands as the winning run filters across the platter, coupled with the thousand and platter, coupled with the thousand and one thrills provided for the bugs during the summer months, unite to make baseball our greatest national pastime. But the good old stove league does its share. The busy scribes delve into records and dig up yarns which keep the fans from starving to death for baseball dope while frosty blasts are blowing through the bleachers. Every writer of baseball contributes his log of baseball contributes his log to the stove league fire, which burns bright and warm from Turkey Day un-til the baseballing stars trek off to the Southland. He compares the shortstops today with the shortstoppers of five today with the shortstoppers of five of the dope. He digs up pitching records and baserunning records, and his doped yarns take the place of the box scores. Without winter league chatter the base-sall fan would be a rather lonesome medividual, and without the chance of comparing the stars of today with the dols of yesteryear the scribe would find

It hard to do his share.

When the major leagues held their scheduled meetings here a short time ago it was confidently expected that the embers of the rules committee would bet together and make a few alterations in the baseball code as it stands today. But the rules committee did nothing t the kind. The wise old heads wh are in control of baseball are satisfied with the rules, and for obvious reasons. Suppose measures should be taken to acrease hitting, make it tougher for the oitcher to retire batsmen and handicap the base runners. Suppose steps to make the work of the fielders more flashy were agreed upon by the baseball doctors and the whole baseball code be generally

Many have said that Tris Speaker was the inspiration which caused those Indians to come to life with a jerk. No doubt the advent of the great Tristram in a Cleveland uniform had a lot to do with it.

But no one ball player of the great triatram in a cleveland uniform had a lot to do with it.

But no one ball player of in first plant.

growing. But baseball has stood out a perfected game in itself, and the solons of the pastime can see no reason for changing the order of things.

Should radical changes be made in the rules the favorite winter pastime of comparing players and their records would fade out in a short time, and it would take years before it could be re-

Imagine a scribe attempting to com-pare a player who had established recpare a player who had established records five or ten years ago with one of our present-day stars if the rules today were vastly different. It simply could not be done, for the records of the two players would be made under different rules and different conditions, and there would be no loophole for the comparison.
And don't think for a moment that the winter league dope doesn't hold a high place in the estimation of the fans. high place in the estimation of the fans

Baseball's solons know it, and they realize the advantage of it. The good old "dope" has helped to make baseball a national institution. national institution.

So the passing up of many suggestions that have been made from time to time for altering the pitching, batting and base-running rules has been a wise move on the part of the rules committeemen, and, as one prominent baseball man said today because it is no easy matter to get per around the bases, and the fans realize that the making of a run requires hard work. I wouldn't undermine the foundation of the game by tampering with the rules, for the fans are satisfied and baseball owes its popularity largely to the fact that it is built on a solid and

ICORD'S VITAL

LOOKS LIKE THEY WILL

Cleveland, Ohio, March &-Recently it was announced that Dunn's Indians would show their patriotism this reason by wearing United States flags emblazoned on their right sleeves, but an unexpected difficulty has arisen. In seven of the eight cities in the American League the Cleveland players will have no difficulty, but there's a question whether they'll be permitted to wear these flags in Washington, the capital of the country. That's because Congress recently passed a law prohibiting the use of the American flag for advertising purposes. That law applies only to the territories and to the District of Columbia.

"We shall ask for a ruling," said Vice President McRoy last night, and if it is decided that these flags are advertising we'll wear them at home and in the other six cities, but will have to take them off when we go to Washington."

CLEVELAND INDIANS MAY BE CONTENDERS

Fohl Believes His Hurling Corps Will Land Team on Top.

New York, March &-Lee Fohl had the Cleveland Indians very much in the race for the American League pennant from the first of May until the middle of Au-gust last summer. Then the coll was gust last summer. Then the spell was broken and the Indians began to slide intil they finally landed and finished in sixth place. But the Indians made themselves felt, But the Indians made themselves felt, and they caused the first big sensation of the major league season by their quick rush to the top of the ladder. No one had expected to see them climb so fast. No one thought it was in the "downtrodden" Indians.

Many have said that Tris Speaker was the insultation, which caused there Inmost popular of all sports. It has become firmly established in the hearts of the sport-loving public because it is being offered from year to year as a stable attraction.

The game as it is served up to the public today has suffered few alterations in the past ten years, and this fact has done much to keep it foremost among sports. Almost every other branch of sport has been altered. Frequent changes in the rules and consequent shifting of conditions have kept such sports from growing. But baseball has stood out a perfected game in itself, and the solons of the nestime can see no reason for dians were a wrecking machine while dians were a wrecking machine while they held their gait.

It is going after the bunting in Big Ban Johnson's loop, and it is go-ing to be a factor, if we are to take the opinions of a big majority of writers and "just plain" baseball men No one, at least outside of Cleve-land, is making bold predictions for the Indians. But every one who has taken time to size them up is convinced that they will make themselves felt. will be factors in the race, and their fortunes or misfortunes will count heavily. They will make a strong fight for a first division finish. This is the unanimous opinion of the majority. Spurred on to duplicate his feat of grabbing the batting honors, Tris Speaker may be expected to play his head off. And the other batsmen of the Cleveland And the other batsmen of the Cleveland club will start the season with an incentive to keep close on Speaker's heels in the business of slamming the ball around.

Lee Fohl has a well seasoned and dependable infield, with some good looking recruits, who may break in on some of the regulars. With Gandil, Chapman, Wambsganns, Turner, Evans, and Howard of ganns, Turner, Evans, and Howard of last year's infield, he will take Marty Kavanaugh, secured from Detroit; Louis Guisto, a sensational player from Port-land; Ray Miller, formerly with Columbus, and Joe Harris, from Chattanooga bus, and Joe Harris, from Chattanooga, to Waxahachie, for the training season. Guisto finished the season with the Indians last year and he was a .236 hitter with Portland. Miller, who is a cleancut performer, hit .344, according to his last minor league average, and Joe Harris was strong with the stick in the Southern League, hitting .300.

PROF. ZANCIG,

-Washington's favorite adviser, the Benefactor of Humanity, giving instant relief and permanent help and advice to those that have trouble in Love, Law. Domestic or Business Affairs. Wooderful Prof. Zancig is positively the only medium in this city with a world-wide record and PERSONAL CREDENTIALS of the most noted people of the present age. He was educated in Occult Mysteries and Hindoo Philosophy in Egypt and India; is far in advance of the ordinary readers, you meet—in a class distinctly alone. Without asking a single question he will tell you exactly the things which most deeply interest you, giving full Names, Facts and Figures, accepting no fee unless perfect satisfaction is given. The prosperous business man is told how to continue so as to avoid mistakes which may bring disaster; the sweetheart, wife, or husband is given the proper advice to bring happiness. In fact, there is not a problem under the sun that this wonderful man means to spend the most interesting and positively the most valuable half hour you have ever known.
